

Looking for national coordinating counsel with a tried and tested litigation bench?

Look to USLAW.

If your company's litigation docket requires you to be in many jurisdictions at once, look to USLAW to streamline the process.

With more than 60 law firms across the United States, our team has managed litigation — and tried cases — in nearly every jurisdiction.

USLAW's lawyers are tried, tested, and trial-ready. Many international and national companies already look to us to help coordinate multi-state litigation, deploying USLAW's deep resources to manage the litigation process.

When your company has legal needs that span state lines, look to USLAW.
